

Dezi Does it

My Special Story

At 15 years old, I noticed a small lump developing in the lower part of my abdomen. After being rushed to the hospital and to my surprise, I learned that the mass was actually a blood clot in one of my uteri.

I had been born with two uterus and one kidney, yet I was just finding out about it for the first time.

These findings caused me to completely revamp my lifestyle. Now at 28 years old, I'm a healthy Latina who enjoys sharing the way I balance everyday life. My online community and I connect on multiple levels, from balancing a traditional 9-5, beauty, home decor, budgeting, and wellness.

Through my YouTube channel, lifestyle blog, and Instagram + Twitter community, I aim to empower and inspire – sharing my tips on channeling inner-love to outer beauty.

Previous Partnerships

Through carefully selected partnerships, I am able to ensure that each message has an intention behind it. Whether it's encouraging others to make health-conscious choices, travel more or love the skin they're in, a few of my partnerships include the following brands:

Appleton Estate Rum

Daysy Fertility Tracker

Ouidad

Visit Jamaica

Parachute

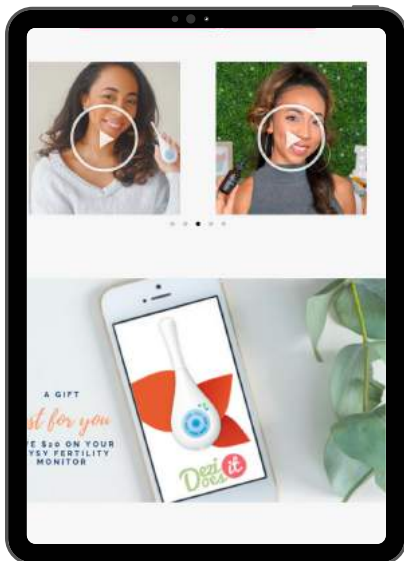

Sol De Janeiro

Case Study: Daysy

Priced at $300, Daysy is the hormone-free solution for managing your fertility. Although not a replacement for birth control, many women turn towards Daysy when looking to move away from hormonal birth control. My openness and vulnerability with my audience allow them to trust me when making this important decision to purchase.
